Description:	Any chance that entropy.lon.bitfolk.com can be made available over IPv6 too? (Currently experimenting with running an IPv6-only VPS.)

I will need to upgrade the version of haproxy that is fronting this service, and I think I would like to take the time to provision new dedicated VMs for haproxy load balancing at the same time. Other than that there is no reason this cannot be done.

The current version of haproxy may be good enough actually. Please give:

@2001:ba8:1f1:f377::2@

a try as the entropy key server IP.

Nope that's not working yet.

@2001:ba8:1f1:f377::2@ probably does now work.

Yepp, getting the entropy from 2001:ba8:1f1:f377::2 works for me.

Thanks!
